Flowers and a fresh cuppa

A COMBINED tea room and florist makes for a great setting to catch up with friends or family at Graceville.

Forget Me Not Tea Room, on Honour Ave, is owned by Michael Matthews, who took over the business in November.

Mr Matthews described the combined florist and tea room as “quite unique”.

“We have a range of Devonshire teas, gourmet sandwiches, cakes, sweets and light meals,” he said.

There’s a gluten-free menu including muffins, quiches, crackers, cakes and slices.

The traditional high tea includes freshly made finger sandwiches, mini scones with jam and cream and savoury shells with gourmet fillings.
